Payment of State Bonus Called Unconstitutional

Attorney-General, After Getting Complaint, Advises Legislature Not to Act Hastily

ture Not to Act Hastily

From a Staff Correspondent

ALBANY, Jan. 30.—The constitutionality of the payment of a bonus to soldiers, sailors and nurses who served overseas has been raised by James M. Dean, a lawyer of Jamestown. Mr. Dean addressed himself to Attorney General Newton, holding that the bonus, although approved by about a million majority at the poils last November, was unconstitutional.

The Attorney General took the matter up first with Comptroller Wendell, who informed New York bankers, wno would advance the money, of the question raised. The bankers replied they were willing to take a chance if the Legislature would pass a bill calling for the payment of the bonus, which amounts in all to about $40,000,000.

Attorney General Newton has advised the Legislature not to act on the bill providing for the bonus until he has discussed the matter with Company providing for the bonus until he has discussed the matter with Governor Miller.
